Progress to date

The OSCAR project continues to progress at pace. The website branding has been approved by NHSE and the developer has started to build our locally designed website and apps.

Progress updates have been presented regularly to lead clinical and executive groups, meetings have been held with secondary care leads and arrangements are currently being made to attend future network, practice manager and nursing forums.

We are currently mapping out existing pathways and supporting respiratory leads to prepare their documents for OSCAR. We have had early discussions re: palliative care, cardiology and endocrinology and also have a number of local pathways that are ready for publication on OSCAR.

However, we are looking for people who would like the opportunity to be at the forefront of developing this exciting local resource and would be interested to hear from clinicians who would like to be involved in the clinical review and localisation of one or more of the NEW Devon 'example only' content

If you are interested in being involved or would like to find out more please contact:
